

This application supports the need for a more open culture, while still providing the individual worker the space they need to be their most productive. Facing out allows workers to see who's coming, and makes it easy to pull up a chair.

6'x8' footprint